Word definition and story writing activity

- Write a story about a walking, cycling or scooting journey.
- Think how you can use some of the words and descriptions in your story.
- Describe the area or place where the walking, cycling or scooting journey in your story takes place. It could be in an urban city, suburb, town or rural village location.
- Introduce characters; describe what happens, when and why? Use experiences or observations and using your own words write how the story unfolds, what happens and how your story ends.
- Did any of your characters make good choices? Did any of your characters contribute to an outcome that was not safe, was someone hurt?
- Write what safety message you learnt from your story.

To prepare for your story, start by finding the definition of the following words.
